

The proposed intelligent talent matching platform is designed for people involved in the job recruitment process. The system mainly focuses on helping job seekers find suitable jobs and helping companies find the right candidates.

The main target users of the system are as follows:

- Candidates (Job Seekers): These are people who are looking for jobs. They can create profiles, search for job opportunities, and receive job recommendations based on their skills and experience.
- Employers (Companies): These are organizations that want to hire employees. They can post job advertisements, search for candidates, and find suitable applicants through the system.
- System Administrator (optional): The administrator is responsible for managing the system, such as maintaining user accounts and ensuring the system works properly.

Overall, the system supports both candidates and employers by improving the efficiency of job searching and recruitment.
